
Conflict of Interest Statement

Manuscript title: An Explainable Rule-Based Approach to Automatic Rhythm Game Chart Generation

The author declares that there is no conflict of interest regarding the publication of this manuscript.

Specifically:

- There are no financial interests, relationships, or affiliations relevant to the subject matter of this manuscript.
- There are no non-financial competing interests (personal, professional, political, or institutional) to disclose.
- The manuscript is original, has not been published elsewhere, and is not under consideration for publication by any other journal.
- The work does not learn from or reproduce any individual chart author's copyrighted material; it codifies general design principles observed across multiple commercial games. The software is released under the permissive MIT license.
- This research received no external funding.

As the sole author, Lee ChangHo takes full responsibility for the content of the manuscript and for this declaration.

Author: Lee ChangHo (이창호) Independent Researcher, Republic of Korea damelazydeveloper@gmail.com

Date: 2026-07-03